Retain "Perspective."
We say of a painting that the "perspective" is good—meaning that we can see far ahead, beyond the apparent background to imagined beauties still further in the distance. Many people have not this perspective; they see only the pebbles and shallow water in the foreground and, stopping to dabble their feet in the first pleasant invitation to ease and coolness, they lose the call and lure of the deep pools and forests farther on, content to stay at the half-way house, even forgetting that they once held a faint vision of castles of accomplishment.

Ant Development.
Ants have developed nothing remotely resembling industrial organization. Many unnecessary conclusions have been drawn from comparing neuter (undeveloped female) ant workers with the unmarried women of modern industry. A comparison with child labor would be truer. For ant workers are always "hungry" forms—stunted creatures who have no economic opportunity to grow up—who are forced by family necessity to venture out for food before they reach full growth.

Napkins.
Table napkins were in use long before some of the other accessories which we consider indispensable today. Before forks came to be known, men had to use their fingers in preparing their food; hence the ancient custom of frequently passing the basin of water and its accompanying napkin for wiping the hands. It now seems incredible that forks were not customary until the seventeenth century.

Physicians' Oath.
A part of the Hippocratic oath is as follows: "Whatever, in connection with my professional practice, or not in connection with it, I may see or hear in the lives of men which ought not to be spoken abroad, I will not divulge, as reckoning that all such should be kept secret." This oath is respected by every count in the world, and rarely indeed has it ever been broken by a reputable physician.

Make Themselves Clothes.
Among the animal tailors are the smooth caterpillars. Naked and unarmed, their extreme vulnerability places them at the mercy of numerous enemies; but many families of them are remarkable for making little sheaths or garments for the protection of their bodies, notably the silk worm, than which the lilies of the field are not more gorgeously arrayed.

Those With Enterprise.
The enterprising person is the person who is always learning and putting that learning to use, who is making the very best of opportunity, and creating all the opportunities which seem to offer themselves to his or her molding. In other words, what is enterprise but a busy mind and a busy person properly directed by a sane soul.

Cleaning an Umbrella.
To clean an umbrella place a tablespoonful of sugar in a basin, pour over it half a pint of water and stir till dissolved. Then open the umbrella and, starting from the ferrule, sponge each gore down to the point. Leave the umbrella open till dry.

Vegetable Wax.
A Japanese industry which has made remarkable progress in recent years is that concerned with the extraction of vegetable wax, which is coming into greater demand on foreign markets.

Sheep Bone Toy of Small Orientals.
Without the bone of a sheep, that eternal ubiquitous plaything of all the East, the children of Asia would be absolutely without an amusement device. Go wherever children play—Osmatic, or Karls, Armenians or Arabs, Drosses or Greeks—and you will see the sheep bone represents everything from a staff to a sword, from a pusha's horsehair ornamented standard to a British gunboat, from a mosque to a church.—Red Cross Magazine.

Cosmetic Art.
From the looks of some of the women when it comes cold, it would be a good proposition to sell different shades of powder for hot, warm, cool and cold weather. They say that they sell different shades for day and night—white for the daytime and blue for use under artificial light, so, why not for different degrees of temperature as well? However, probably some bright genius has already thought this up and patented his compound and it may not be well advertised as yet.—Grit.

Eyeless Oysters.
The oyster has a good-sized stomach, which is connected with the mouth by a short gullet; two pairs of gills for breathing, an intestine, a dark green liver, a two-chambered heart and an elementary nervous system, but is minus ears, nose and eyes. It also lacks the footlike appendage that many mollusks possess for the reason that it has no need of an organ of locomotion.

Mixing Tobacco.
The mixing of light and dark tobacco is a thing of comparatively recent date. A man from London found his pipe tobacco was nearly exhausted, so he cut up a cake of chewing tobacco and made a mixture. He continued to smoke the blend, and meeting a friend who was in the trade, he gave him a sample. With the result that the first smoking mixture was soon before the public.

Various Alphabets.
There is quite a difference in the number of letters in the alphabets of the languages of the world. The English language contains 26 letters; the French, 23; the Italian, 20; the Spanish, 27; the German, 29; the Slavonic, 27; the Russian, 41; the Latin, 22; the Greek, 24; the Hebrew, 22; the Arabic, 28; the Persian, 32, and the Turkish, 33.

Conquer Fear.
It is an everlasting duty, the duty of being brave. Valor is still value. The first duty of a man is still that of subduing fear. We must get rid of fear; we cannot act till then. A man shall and must be valiant, he must march forward. Now and always the completeness of his victory over fear will determine how much of a man he is.

The government of Great Britain announces that owing to increase in crime in County Clare, Ireland, it has been decided to suppress all Sinn Fein and kindred organizations in that county.

Italy Pawns Its Indemnity?
Rome.—The newspapers announce that through a recent financial agreement between Italy and Great Britain, Italy may cede to the British government part of the indemnity due her from Germany.

Vicious Bull Killed Farmer.
Tulsa, Ok.—A vicious Holstein bull killed J. W. Twist, a farmer living three miles north of this place, the other night. Twist was driving the bull with other cattle into the barn when the animal turned on him.

Doomed to Wretchedness.
Let a man choose what condition he will, and let him accumulate around him all the goods and gratifications seemingly calculated to make him happy in it; if that man is left at any time without occupation or amusement, and reflects on what he is, the meager, languid felicity of his present lot will not bear him up. He will turn necessarily to gloomy anticipation of the future; and unless his occupation calls him out of himself, he is inevitably wretched.—Pascal.

A Great Man.
A great man is he who chooses the right in inevitable resolution, who resists the worst temptations from within and without, who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully, who is calmest in storms and most fearless under frowns, whose reliance on truth, on virtue, on God, is most unflinching. I believe this greatness to be most common among the multitude, whose names are never heard.—W. E. Channing.

Keep Sweet.
Losing the temper takes all the sweet, pure feeling out of life. One may get up in the morning with a clean heart, full of song, and start out as happy as a bird, and the moment he is crossed and gives way to temper the clean feeling vanishes; and a loud as heavy as lead is rolled upon the heart. Be the master of your temper and you hold the key to joy and contentment.

Whence "Dutch."
The name Dutch is derived from Dietsch, meaning the vernacular, as distinguished from Latin. It is the same word as the German Deutsch. Dutch belongs to the Frankish division of the Low German, and is closely related to the Flemish, with which it is now practically identified in its written form. The Dutch language is one of the Germanic group of dialects, and is practically the same in its structure.

Evidently No Lover of Cards.
It is very wonderful to see persons of the best sense passing hours together in shuffling and dividing a pack of cards with no conversation but in different figures. Would not a man what is made up of a few game phrases, and no other ideas but those of black or red spots ranged together laugh to hear any one of his species complaining that life is short?—Addison.

Endurance.
Endurance, not fleetness, wins the race. Never give up. Keep pegging away even though everything looks hopeless. Many a man has failed to achieve both fortune and fame because he lost courage just as he was within reach of them. What you desire may be only one step ahead. Keep going.

Ingredients for Happiness.
Without strong affection and humanity of heart, and gratitude to that Being whose code is mercy and whose great attribute is benevolence to all things that breathe, true happiness can never be attained.—Dickens.

Oldest Roof.
The roof of Hotel Rhinebeck in New York city is supposed to be the oldest slate roof in America. It was slated in the year 1700 with slate brought from Wales for this purpose.

Altar vs. Halter.
Said the facetious feller: "Nobody expects a wedding ceremony to go through without a hitch."

NUTTY NUGGETS

A baby has no vanity. It doesn't mind how it looks when it cries.

It helps break the ice not to be punctilious about all the final "g's" on your words.

Are farmers longer lived than other people? And they certainly do get exercise enough.

On the days a man isn't trying to break some of his bad habits, he is better company to himself.

Up to the age of 40 a man is likely to be swept away by idealism; after that common sense intervenes.

Serenading seems to have gone out; the most fetching tune a young man can offer is the hum of a motor car at the front door.

No man who smokes a cigar "to keep company with the others" can conceal the fact that he doesn't care for it. It's always going out.

Dominoes for the Blind.
Dominoes for the blind are rather ingenious. Recognizing the need of something that would not easily be displaced as the fingers of the blind passed back and forth reading the numbers on the face of the dominoes, the inventor has given us a set of interlocking pieces. The mortise joint makes them hold together no matter how much they are brushed around. The number on each piece is indicated by the raised heads of brass tacks, easily read by the touch.

Old Name for February.
The old Britons gave the nickname "Fildyke" to February, not because it is a particularly wet month, the average rainfall being the least of any month in the year, but because the melting snow on the hills causes the rivers and dykes to overflow. When there is a superabundance of snow and rain in February there is too much of what would be a good thing in moderation, and floods where they are least welcome.

Canada's Water Power.
An important feature of the water powers of Canada is their fortunate situation with respect to existing commercial centers. Within economic transmission range of practically every important city from the Atlantic to the Pacific, except those in the central western prairies, there are clustered water-power sites which will meet the probable demands for hydro-power for generations.

Undoubted Proof.
An eminent pianist was about to give a recital in a large hall. As the audience was filing in a man staggered up to the door and presented a ticket. "You cannot go in," said the official in charge; "you are not in a fit condition." "Didn't I pay for my ticket?" asked the man. "Isn't it in order?" "It's all right," was the reply, "but you—you are all wrong—you are intoxicated!" "Intoxicated?" Of course I'm intoxicated! If I wasn't do you think I would come to a piano recital?"

Best Method of Rising.
Some trust to luck—some rely upon influence—some expect promotion without self-assertion—but the persevering rise upon the wings of will.—Herbert Kaufman.

Spasmodic Sermon.
By this stage of eternity the tooth of time must show some evidence of decay.—Indianapolis Star.
